Alex Gizis, Connectify CEO

Alexander Gizis is CEO and co-founder of Connectify. Founded in 2010, Connectify develops a suite of cutting-edge PC and mobile apps that helps consumers stay connected across their various devices and network connections. Mr. Gizis launched Connectify Hotspot, the world's most popular software router, as a means to let users share Internet connections easily without paying a fortune or carrying unnecessary hardware. Since then, Connectify Hotspot has garnered millions of downloads, becoming an essential application for people all over the world.

With the latest product, Speedify, today's click-of-a-button Wi-Fi sharing capabilities meet tomorrow's innovation, letting desktop and smartphone users draw on the speed of multiple Internet connections for increased speed and reliability.

Prior to Connectify, Mr. Gizis was the CEO and co-founder of Group Cortex, one of the first Internet professional services firms. Group Cortex was acquired by Answerthink Consulting Group, a publicly traded company, in 1999.

Mr. Gizis holds a BSE in Computer Science and Engineering from the University of Pennsylvania.
